Report :

- Rotaract Club of Sanatan Dharma College, Ambala Cantt organised event 'Bookmarked' on September 28, 2017.
- With the ever improving literacy rate of India, millions of children attend school every day in the hope of grasping a bright future. Every year more than 95% of these students get promoted to the next class, leaving behind an array of memories and old books.
- A book can change the course of history, and together, we and the books we donate, can change the future of the children of our nation and the future of our country.
- The event was organised in Collaboration with Rotaract Club of crescent Wolves.
- Under this Project Books were donated to the students of School.
- Targeted School was 'Rotary School for Deaf and Dumb'.
- Six students from our club participated in this event.
- Students and staff of the school were very happy with this initiative.
- Books are the core of student's life and when they got something like this this proved to be a boon.
- Ashutosh Mehta was the project chairman.
- "One man's trash is another man's treasure".
- We wrapped up the drive by handing over the collection of books voluntarily donated by students and staff and thereafter clicked a few pictures before thanking the staff for their time and hospitality.
