ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Reading Culture in Digital Era : Libraries as gateways to knowledge and culture, play a fundamental role in society. The resources and services they offer, create opportunities for learning, support literacy and education, and help shape the new ideas and perspectives that are central to a creative and innovative society. They also help ensure an authentic record of knowledge created and accumulated by past generations. In a world without libraries, it would be difficult to advance research and human knowledge or preserve the world's cumulative knowledge and heritage for future generations. Libraries and information centers are also in the business of igniting passion for reading and research. Today's academic learning ecology is as complicated and changeable as the multiple channels and media that today determine the reading environment for learning. Texts, interfaces, gadgets, and experiences, all influence how we read. These changes have an influence not just on our reading experience and knowledge, but also creating an engaging environment of teaching and learning in the classroom. While digital literature is considered an emerging technology, it also provides opportunity and a wide range of options. Libraries face a challenge in moving beyond the practicalities of digital collection management to the marketing of services that satisfy pedagogical and educational demands. The purpose of this conference is to consider the critical challenge of the changing shift of sources from print to digital and its influence on learners' reading culture and habits.

SUB-THEMES OF CONFERENCE
